DEATH PLOT TOLD IN OAKLAND BRIBE PROBE

'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

OVER THE WEEK END

Just so you won't lose track of what happened since Saturday morning, the last issue of the RECORD-HERALD, here's a short review of some of the outstanding news events.

Several persons were burned to death and many injured when a lodging house in Oakland was destroyed by flames.

Fred D. Parr, president of the Parr-Richmond Terminal corporation was named on the state board of penal institutions for women. The appointment was made by Gov. C. C. Young.

And during the week-end we had rain, sleet, hail, and a few other things, but mostly rain.

Nicholas Alcorta, who is alleged to have written a letter in which a threat was made against the life of President Herbert Hoover admitted that the letter was a "joke."

Some young men who didn't believe in the Volstead law stole some "wine" in Omaha. The party that followed would have been a success if it had really been wine. Instead they discovered too late that the "wine" was an alcoholic mixture to prevent freezing of water in automobile radiators. Four of them died.

The annual Apricol Festival of east Contra Costa county is to be held some time in June, according to the committee in charge of arrangements. The festival is to be held at Brentwood.

If we don't read the stars wrong, there is one politician who is starting to repair his bridges. With the large number of appointments which have been made in recent weeks one might be led to believe that a political campaign is in the offing.

Mabel Normand, screen favorite of a few years ago has lost her battle for life in the south. The actress has been suffering from tuberculosis for some time.

Fred "Dummy" Mahan, well known in pugilistic circles for his ring ability, will no longer delight his fans. The boxer tried to take a parachute leap to see if his hearing might be improved. A dive in a plane might have done just as well but he preferred a more spectacular leap. When the parachute failed to open Mahan was killed.

Now a report comes from the east that Martin Jensen, well known aviator, has flown a plane backwards and upside down for a distance of a mile. Aviation is developing, but just what advantage can be gained by a plane flying backwards is problematical.

* * *

And we have been informed that the stork was not given a very good reception in California during the last year.

YESTERDAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE—

Norris proposal to investigate prohibition enforcement put off for two weeks by judiciary committee.

Leaders received warning from president that government expenses must be held within $50,000,000 of budget this coming fiscal year.

Insular affairs committee decided congress will not act on Philippine independence question until after conclusion of naval conference.

HOUSE—

Representative Dallinger, Republican of Massachusetts, charged Democrats with faithlessness to John J. Raskob, chairman Democratic national committee.

Labor committee resumed hearings on old age pension bill.

HOUSE RAZED BY HEAVY GALE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—UP—Whirlwinds, lightning, snow and heavy showers visited the San Francisco bay region today and numerous cases of minor damage was reported. One death was attributed to the storm.

The heavy winds twisted a house and a garage, tore shingles from roofs and broke window panes. A sailor, George Saldatoff, was blown from the deck of a tug and drowned in San Francisco bay.

Lightning struck the city hall and Oak hotel in Oakland but resultant fires were quickly extinguished.

Snow Falls

Boys in the Mission district here threw snowballs for a few minutes.

The rain for 12 hours ending at 5 p. m. totaled .63 of an inch, bringing the total for the season to 10.55 inches, compared with normal of 15.96 inches.

The lightning storm in Oakland this afternoon caused more excitement than damage. One bolt struck the city hall, ran down the steel structure and caused flashes of fire in the office of Auditor Harry Williams. The same bolt caused a slight fire in the engine room.

Flagpole Hit

Another bolt struck a pole outside of the Hotel Oaks at Fourteenth and Grove streets, Oakland. The lightning ran along the wires and into the hotel, but did no damage. The flagpole of the Hotel Claremont, Oakland, was shattered by a bolt.

Numerous telephones in Oakland and the bay regions were out of commission for several hours and the Pacific Gas and Electric company reported several poles hit and a number of small fires started.

A strong gust of wind struck the home of John Voltz, 1896 Forty-sixth avenue, here, tore it from its foundation and let it down at right angles to the direction it had faced. The home was declared a total loss.

POWER FIRM PLANS WORK

OAKLAND, Feb. 24.—During the year 1930 the Great Western Power company will invest $3,400,000 in new electric power facilities for the eastbay region, according to an announcement made here today by F. H. Woodward, local manager.

Principal expenditures in Alameda and Contra Costa county will be for improvement of substations and power lines.

Increased facilities are to be provided at the Golden Gate substation in El Cerrito and at Oakland at a cost of $40,000. New lines are to be built in the vicinity of Richmond, Hayward, San Leandro and Martinez.

Extensions of service to take care of new consumers and increased electric load of old consumers will cost about $550,000 company officials estimate.

Construction planned in the Oakland division is a part of the company's budget of $10,474,109 set aside this year for improvements.

Council Will Study Life Loss At Rail Crossings

On the motion of Councilman W. W. Scott, at the meeting of the city council last night a representative of the state chamber of commerce will be invited to appear before that body and explain the measures that are being taken to prevent accidents at railroad grade crossings.

In a letter from the safety conference of the state chamber, aid was solicited in lessening grade crossing accidents, and the information was asked, what Richmond was doing along this line.

The communication gave the information, that in all the precautionary measures that were being taken that the toll of life at grade crossings is on the increase.

Declares She Is Bankrupt

NINA WILCOX PUTNAM, noted authoress, seems to be happy at Palm Beach, although she has filed voluntary petition in bankruptcy.

COOLIDGES UNDER GUARD

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24—(U.P.)—Calvin Coolidge was kept under additional police guard at a chamber of commerce banquet here tonight after he had received an ananymous letter warning him that "an eastern gunman" had arrived in Los Angeles to make an attempt against his life.

William Hynes, lieutenant of the police intelligence squad, said that the former president had received many crank letters since his arrival in southern California, but that the "gunman" warning was the most serious.

The letter was written on cheap stationery and in a scrawling hand.

It was in an envelope addressed to Mrs. C. Coolidge, but the contents were to "the Honorable C. Coolidge."

The letter read:

"The Honorable C. Coolidge:

"I would like to warn you that a gunman, murderer from east arrived in Los Angeles and he said

Mute Poisons Baby, Self

OAKLAND, Feb. 24—(U.P.)—In the sign language of a deaf mute, Phillips Lewis, 37, informed his wife here today he had poisoned their three-year old boy. Then he collapsed and died from poison he had taken at the same time. The baby was still alive late today, although his condition was critical.

Police said a quarrel between Lewis and his wife because he would not ask his father for money to pay household bills caused the tragedy.

Cunningham Burns Hand

R. H. Cunningham, Richmond sanitary inspector, received a painfully burned hand yesterday morning when he picked up a hot heater. Cunningham wished to move the heater and did not notice that the metal handle had been resting on top of the hot stove. The entire palm of the left hand was badly burned and medical attention was necessary.

CARQUINEZ ARRIVALS

Arrivals at the Hotel Carquinez yesterday were: E. Colecough, of Fresno; J. O. Hankins, Seattle; E. J. Thornton, San Francisco E. B. Hendrickson, Los Angeles; Miss M. Thornton, Bakersfield; Harrison P. Smith, Los Angeles; H. S. Wall, Los Angeles and Robert R. Culmer, San Francisco.

PLANES LOST IN STORM HUNTED

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24.—UP—Two Western Air Express pilots who flew into a storm over the Arizona desert waste had been missing for more than 30 hours tonight without a clue of any sort to their fate.

James E. "Jimmy" Doles took off from Kingman, Ariz., at 11:45 a. m. Sunday in a "ferry" or empty passenger ship, accompanied by Albert W. Beiber his co-pilot. They were due in Los Angeles two hours later.

When they did not appear here, officials of the line did not become greatly worried, believing that Doles had landed at the Miller ranch, east of Tejon Pass, where an emergency field is located. It was not until today that the Miller ranch could be reached by telephone and when it was learned that Doles and Beiber had not been there first announcement of their non-arrival was made.

Graham Search

Meanwhile, the search for Mauro Graham, another Western Aid Express pilot, who disappeared in the snow-ridden country between Las Vegas, Nev., and Salt Lake City, Utah, went forward with renewed vigor today after three brothers had reported finding a revolver and some empty shells near Hiko, Nev.

In the same country, Fred Kelly, veteran pilot of Western Air Express, lost a battle with a blizzard at 3:30 this morning and his plane crashed into a mountain 12 miles north of St. George, Utah. About 240 pounds of mail were destroy-

11 DEAD IN TRAIN WRECK

KENOSHA, Wis., Feb. 24.—UP—Tragic consequences of a motorist's attempt to beat a speeding interurban train to a crossing here revealed tonight that the resultant crash was one of the most disastrous ever experienced on the electric lines skirting Lake Michigan's southern shore.

While laborers worked with acetlyene torches on four steel cars of a Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee passenger train which plunged in a hail of broken glass and flying steel over a steep embankment, physicians in all of Kenosha's hospitals compiled the following list of dead and injured:

Eleven dead, 102 injured, 59 still in hospitals, 10 more expected to die.

The heavy train, consisting of five cars loaded with 250 week-end excursionists, was southbound from Milwaukee for Chicago late last night. Running on a schedule which has caused the company to advertise the system as "America's fastest interurban line," the train slowed down to 50 miles an hour before entering Kenosha.

On another track a long electric freight train was lumbering slowly northward.

A small automobile driven by Frank Tomczak, barely beat the freight train to the crossing, but ran directly into the path of the thundering passenger express, coming the other way.

There was a blinding flash of electric sparks, the shriek of brakes, and the crunching of metal against metal as the passenger train careened against the freight, smashed the automobile between, and then lurched back over the embankment.

Insults Flag, Sent To Jail

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—U—Six months in jail for refusing to salute the American flag was the penalty administered by Police Judge George Steiger upon Henry Keister, 23, here today.

Keister was also accused of declaring the United States "was no good." He was found guilty of contempt of court before being sentenced and the judge said he was sorry a heavier penalty was not provided.

COUNCIL BARS HUMPHREY AVE. OPENING

PLAN HELD BURDEN TO OWNERS

Humphrey avenue opening will not take place.

By the unanimous vote of the council last evening, the city manager was instructed to write a letter to the board of supervisors asking them to eliminate this part of the work out of the proceedings.

If the work had gone through property owners on the avenue to Twenty-third street would have been assessed $30 per lot.

The proposed work was inspected last week by the members of the council as a committee of the whole, and it was decided that to allow the work to go through would be an imposition, and an unnecessary burden on property owners.

2 KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

SANTA MARIA, Feb. 24.—UP—A pilot and a student flier were killed today when their plane crashed in the hills 12 miles from here from an unascertained cause. The ship was in charge of J. W. Pearson, 31, an instructor from the Hancock Foundation College of Aeronautics. With him was J. W. Middleton, 23, a student fleir enroute to a hospital. Pearson was an ace in the Royal Flying corps during the World War.

Council Gets Three Reports

Three reports of departments were filed at the meeting of the city council last night.

The expenses of the Richmond Health Center for the past month amounted to $577.17.

Poundmaster Frank Meader was kept busy, as his report shows the impounding of 78 animals.

The receipts of the police court were $385. Of this amount $230 was collected for violations of the motor vehicle act, and $155 for violations of other laws.

Men's Brotherhood Visits Fruitvale Church Meeting

Members of the Men's Brotherhood of the First Christian church last night attended an organization meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of the Fruitvale Christian church.

Rev. Primus Bennett, pastor of the local church, spoke on the gerat need of men's organizations in the churches of today.

A trio from Richmond, including Charles Brown, Walter Moore and Clare Thomas sang several selections. They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. C. C. Thomas.

Brown also sang several selections.

E. A. Brown, Rev. M. L. Rose, father of the pastor of the Fruitvale church and Rev. G. L. Rose each talked in response to the message delivered by Rev. Bennett.

W. S. Sherman was named president of the new group, which will visit the Richmond club in May.

Suisun Channel Project Approved

MARTINEZ, Feb. 24—Approval of plans for widening and deepening Suisun channed between Martinez and Antioch by the War Department was learned today by word received from Washington, D. C.

It is believed locally that the project will be financed through state and federal aid and will be carried out in conjunction with the work on the Stockton deep water channel program.

Sues Musician

MRS. DOROTHY WARING, wife of Fred Waring, leader of the Pennsylvanians, recently sued for divorce, declaring that she was neglected.

SCREEN STARS FINAL RITES TO BE PRIVATE

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 24—(U.P.)—The public, which idolized Mabel Normand in her starring days will not be given a chance to pay final homage to the actress in death, her husband decided tonight.

Miss Normand's body lay in a dimly lighted mortuary unattended, many persons who telephoned being denied permission to make a final visit.

Her husband, Lew Cody, said that the funeral will be held Friday at a church yet to be decided. It will be private because there will not be accomodations for the thousands of persons who would want to attend.

Hollywood, remembering the crowds which paid final respects to Rudolph Valentino had expected a repitition for Miss Normand, but the announcement by Cody indicated that such would not be the case. A huge crowd was expected to be outside the church, however.

Miss Normand's mother, Mrs. C. B. Normand, and sister, Grace,

FIREMEN PLAN ANNUAL DANCE

Committees for the eleventh annual ball of the Richmond fire department will be named within a short time, according to A. M. Buys, newly elected president of the Richmond Firemen's Relief Fund association.

R. P. Myers, who was recently elected secretary and treasurer of the group, is actively assisting Buys in preparation for the event, which will be held April 26.

Efforts are being made to obtain some large local ballroom for the dance, which is expected to be one of the largest ever to be held in Richmond.

Crockett Youth Operated On Here

Leroy Kuhl, 12 of Crockett is progressing favorably following an operation for acute appendicitis at the Cottage hospital Saturday.

The young lad collapsed at the finish line of the grammar school event in the cross city races at Vallejo Saturday and was taken to his home in Crockett. He was then rushed in an ambulance to Richmond where he was operated on.

HUGHES IN NEW POST

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—(U.P.)—In a four-minute ceremony today Charles Evans Hughes was inducted into office as the Eleventh Chief Juctice of the United States.

The dignified, bearded, 67-year old gentleman immediately took over the direction of the court, taking part in announcing orders in a four-hour session.

Hughes took two oaths, one in the presence of the eight associate justices in the robing room, and the other before the crowded courtroom. The first was the constitutional oath of allegiance and the second was the judicial oath.

The first case to be formally submitted to the court was the James Howard Snook appeal from a review of his sentence to the

NEW RECORD FOR GLIDER

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 24.—UP— A new national glider record of 9 hours, 5 minutes and 27-2-5 seconds was set at Point Loma today by Hawley Bowlus after a spectacular flight in a motorless craft of his own manufacture.

Bowlus bettered his own American record of approximately seven hours, but fell 55 minutes short of winning a $2000 prize offered by the Detroit Aircraft company for a 10 hour flight.

The thousand watchers who had waited at the Bowlus camp thru the night had hoped that he would break the world glider record of 14 hours, 7 minutes. Just after Bowlus landed he was joined by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh with whom he has cooperated in glider experiments at Point Loma and Sandberg.

Beach Avenue Closed By City

At the meeting of the city council last night a resolution was adopted closing Beach avenue in the Stege section.

The thoroughfare has never been improved or used, and the property on both sides of it is owned by the Stauffer Chemical company.

The street runs from Forty-fifth street to Forty-seventh street.

W. H. PARKER REFUSES TO TESTIFY

OAKLAND, Feb. 24—Charges of and alleged "death plot" were made today before the Alameda county grand jury, investigating the Oakland paving and vice scandal.

Other important developments in the day's investigation were: The joining of the "I won't talk club" by Commissioner William H. Parker, who refused to testify before the jury on grounds that "it might tend to incriminate me"; the beginning of an audit of the Oakland street department books by expert accountants; and the substantiation of evidence offered by Fred C. Smith, former San Leandro automobile dealer by his wife, Mrs. Edna Smith, and his uncle, P. O. Gunness, Los Angeles attorney.

The alleged death plot was revealed by Smith, who declared that after his break with Sheriff Burton F. Becker and his subsequent flight to Los Angeles, he was informed of a plot against his life by Jack Titus, his business partner.

Advised To Flee

Titus, according to Smith's testimony, sent him word in Los Angeles that "Becker is doublecross-

SHUEY TO BUILD NEW RESIDENCE

Four building permits including one for a new residence were granted yesterday in the office of A. J. Hurley, city building inspector.

John Shuey is to erect a new cottage with basement on Clinton avenue between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth streets. The structure is to cost $3300.

J. A. Demond was granted a permit to construct a one car garage on Fifth street between Bissell and Chanslor avenues. The work to be done by L. A. Legault is to cost $125.

Mrs. J. B. Foster is to build a three car garage on Fifth street between Bissell and Chanslor avenues at a cost of $350. J. A. Legault is the contractor.

Emily Danielson was given permission to remodel the exterior of a two story residence on Tenth street between Barrett and Roosevelt avenues. The work is to cost $600 and Dave Martz is the contractor.

Exhibition Air Jumps Banned

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24—(U.P.)—An order against any further exhibition jumps without two parachutes in the eight western states over which he presides was ordered here today by E. E. Mouton, air inspector of the department of commerce, as a result of the death plunge of Fred "Dummy" Mahan, welterweight fighter here Sunday.

Mouton sent a secret report to Washington regarding the 3200-foot fall of the Arizona boxer.

Two other investigations were being conducted, one by the county supervisors and the other by a deaf mute society.

Carlson At Council Meet

City Attorney T. M. Carlson, who has been sick for the past two months was welcomed at the meeting of the city council last night.

SON AT MOSS HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Moss, 2719 Dowher avenue are the proud parents of a fine baby boy who was born at the Hospital Richmond yesterday morning. Dr. H. L. Carpenter attended the patients.

(Called back from the London Naval Conference at tremendous expense, J. Herman Seidlitz is in Washington to cover the Prohibition investigation. Mr. Seidlitz needs no admission card as an expert on Prohibition. He served as a General in the Whiskey Rebellion, in command of the left flask. He was the first man to go over Niagara Falls in a barrel of rum. Seidlitz won the Nobel Prize in 1927 for splitting the gallon into five quarts and he is the only scholar ever awarded the degree of Doctor of Chiropody for treating corn liquor. It was likewise J. Herman Seidlitz who created the celebrated bon mot—"The proof of the plum pudding is tasting the brandy in it.". And this is the expert who will cover the Prohibition investigation for this column. His first despatch appears below and others will be printed as fast as received. Now is the ideal time to cancel your subscription.)

PROHIBITION ON THE GRILL

By J. Herman Seidlitz

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The Prohibition parley continued to-day. Several dry Southern Congressmen attended wearing revenue stamps on their ten-gallon hats. Amos Dookus took the stand.

CHAIRMAN—Mr. Dookus, what are the effects of Prohibition in your State?

DOOKUS—It has increased the sale of spearmint gum.

CHAIRMAN—What is your occupation, Mr. Dookus?

DOOKUS—I am an etcher.

CHAIRMAN—What did you ever etch?

DOOKUS—I used to etch pictures on barroom mirrors with a piece of soap.

CHAIRMAN—Did you ever etch anywhere else?

DOOKUS—Only when I put on my flannel underwear.

CHAIRMAN—Now, Mr. Dookus, would you be in favor of the return of the saloon?

DOOKUS—Yes, Your Honor. Pardon me, I forgot where I was—yes, sir.

CHAIRMAN—You mean to say you would like the old saloon back, with its sawdust on the floor and the swinging doors and the free lunch?

DOOKUS—I wouldn't care about the sawdust and the swinging doors if they had the free lunch.

CHAIRMAN—Do you realize if the old saloon came back there would be 20,000,000 less radios in American homes?

DOOKUS—That would be all right with me.

CHAIRMAN—Think of the thousands of additional motor accidents if the saloons came back. Don't you know that gasoline and whiskey don't mix?

DOOKUS—They do in the stuff I've been drinking lately.

CHAIRMAN—Mr. Dookus, what did you drink before Prohibition?

DOOKUS—Whiskey, gin, beer, brandy, cider, rum, wine, vodka and absinthe.

CHAIRMAN—Was there anything you didn't drink?

DOOKUS—I didn't drink champagne. It was bad for my health.

CHAIRMAN—What are you drinking nowadays?

DOOKUS—I don't know, but it tastes like shellac.

CHAIRMAN—Do you mean to say you would knowingly drink shellac?

DOOKUS—Well, after the second drink you don't know what you're drinking.

CHAIRMAN—But you do take the first two drinks of shellac in full possession of your senses?

DOOKUS—Well, it's like this, Your Honor—I mean Mr. Chairman. You take the first drink and it's simply terrible. Then you take another drink to see if it's as bad as you thought. After that it's plain sailing.

CHAIRMAN—How much shellac do you drink in an evening?

DOOKUS—About 140 square feet or enough to give a bowling alley one coat.

Mr. Dookus will be called upon again to-morrow morning. His alarm clock is set for 10.30 A. M.

The World's Window

By Pierre Van Paassen

PARIS, February.

Year of Centenaries

This is a year of centenaries. Belgium is to commemorate the mutiny of 1830 when French influence tore the Southern Netherlands away from the North. In France it will be a hundred years in July that the tricolor was hoisted on the towers of the Hotel de Ville, where it has flown uninterruptedly for a century. In July, 1830, the King of France notified the journalists of Paris that he had enough of their talk of democracy and that the freedom of the press was suspended. The journalists replied calmly that he had not the right to do what he did and that they were therefore in their right when they disobeyed. Several papers came out without having submitted their articles to the royal censorship. A Police Commissar went up to Le Temps with an order of the King to smash the presses. The director of that paper closed the grilled gate and when the King's emissary appeared he read to him the law on housebreaking. Not a locksmith could be found to open the door. In the mean time Paris had been aroused. The King was going beyond his rights. The Faubourg St. Antoine marched on the Louvre. The affair was settled in three days. The King left and the tricolor was hoisted. The Second Empire of Napoleon III. respected the revolutionary flag. And only once since 1830 was it in serious danger of being hauled down. That was in 1872. France had been defeated. The Commune had raved in Paris. People thought of restoring the monarchy. The Count of Chambord, pretender to the throne of St. Louis, stood at the Belgian frontier. Everything was arranged. His triumphant entry into Paris was assured. Then the Count made that colossal blunder which has deprived the Orleans and the Bourbons of the throne of their ancestors ever since. He demanded that his followers march with him under the old royal Fleur de Lys. Half of them refused. A bitter quarrel followed. The King remained intransigent. Before the royalists could come to an agreement Paris had tired of waiting for the King. The psychological moment had passed.

Master Bandit

All banditry records have been broken by a clever brigand of the Yunan Province in China, a London paper reports. In one coup, in the city of Mengtsz, this bandit and his gang have carried off practically all the leading officials and citizens of wealth from Mengtsz to his mountain stronghold to hold them for ransom. The bandit gang had been enlisted by the Governor of Yunan to assist him in a war with a rival Governor. The promoted chief of this band was put in charge of the city of Mengtsz, which has a population of well over 10,000. Having won his private "war," the Governor of Yunan decided to disarm his bandit allies, but the commander of the band got word of the Governor's intentions and conceived a plan to outwit the Governor and enrich himself. He announced that he would give a "state dinner," and issued invitations to all the important persons of the city, including military commanders. None dared to refuse the invitation. In the middle of the after-dinner speeches and while many of the guests were befuddled with the wine, the bandit chief gave a signal to his followers. Immediately the important guests were snatched away from the table and hurried off. So skilfully was the coup carried out that the city was not aware of its loss until some of the less important captives returned from the bandits' mountain stronghold to deliver the message that the "City Fathers," the rich merchants and bankers, and the military leaders would not be released until a heavy ransom had been paid. The people demanded that the Governor pay the ransoms, as he put the bandits in a position to perpetrate their audacious coup.

Sensational Play

Dr. Karl Finkelnburg of Berlin, who began as civil servant in the Ministry of Justice in the nineties and ends his career with retirement in April from the commission appointed to supervise prison governors, has put the types that have been the cause of his persistent labors for reform all on the stage together, and, incidentally, written a fine play at the same time. The title is "Amnesty." The plot deals with the problem of whether offenders should be allowed their freedom at a time of national rejoicing. The play has taken Berlin by storm. This is an old man's play, and the work of a Republican to boot. It is wise, sober and sane in its arguments. It provoked frenzied applause in the middle of several scenes when first performed by the enterprising "Studio," affiliated with the People's Theatre, in whose repertoire it is being included.

Cleaning Velvet

YOU will be able to renovate your velvet dress or hat if you rub it briskly with damp salt, then remove it with a stiff brush.

To remove stains from velvet moisten a cloth with eucalyptus oil and rub gently. If it is a grease spot use turpentine on a piece of clean flannel and rub briskly.

To thoroughly cleanse velvet add two tablespoonfuls of ammonia to one cupful hot water. Apply with a stiff brush, rubbing it well into the pile, then place it under side against a hot iron until steam raises the pile and it is well dried.

If it is not badly worn simply place a wet cloth over the surface of a hot iron and hold the velvet against the cloth-covered iron, right side up, brushing gently to remove finger marks as the steam raises the pile.

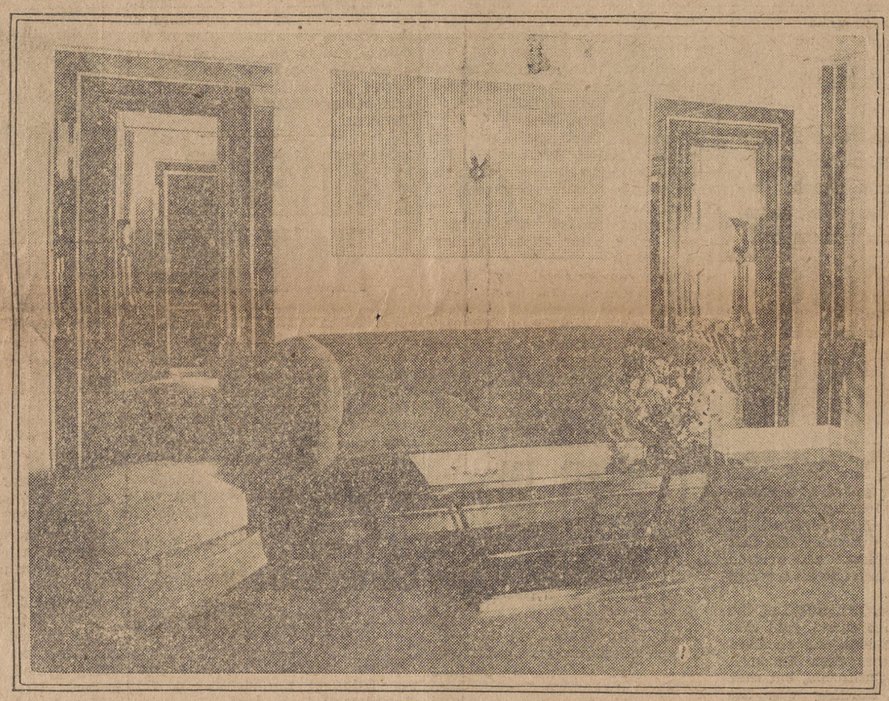
Modernizing the Home

New Mirror Treatment Increases Width of Room

By Alma Zaiss



PAINTED PANEL MIRRORS CREATE AN EFFECT OF SPACE FOR THIS NARROW ROOM IN HYACINTH AND JEWEL TONES—A MODERN COLOR SCHEME OF EXCEPTIONAL LOVELINESS.

Dear Miss Zaiss:

I have just started to furnish my living room (of three-room apartment) in modernistic style. I would like to ask you a few questions as follows:

1. What color rug (all one solid color 9x16 feet) would you suggest for this room with cream colored walls, dark green mohair sofa and golden brown mohair tow club chair?

2. I wish to buy another chair. What modernistic type and color would you suggest?

3. I am making a rough sketch of the room: can you suggest any other arrangement of the furniture?

4. What else can you suggest that I buy to finish furnishing this room in the modernistic mode?

The table indicated is a round walnut modernistic coffee table. The radio is in a walnut cabinet, and the walnut bookcase is filled with bright colored jackets on the books.

I will take the liberty of thanking you in advance for any information you can give me.

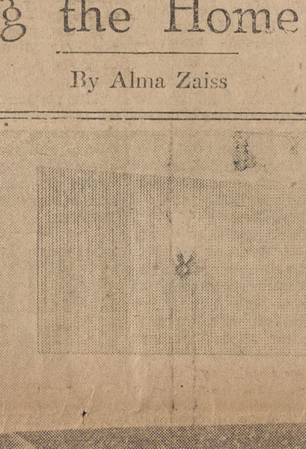
A Problem in Unbalanced Proportions

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

WE APPRECIATE thoroughly Mrs. L.'s interest in additional furnishings. But before one more step is taken in that direction, we must ask if she has not discovered that her room is of difficult proportions, and in great need of a treatment which will broaden and shorten its two extremes. Although her original floor plan is not drawn to scale, the dimensions given indicate a room almost twice as long as it is wide, and until some scheme is devised to cure these inequalities it would be foolish indeed to proceed further in the matter of furnishing.

Fortunately Mrs. L. has chosen a modern theme, and the new trend in decoration is most friendly to the balanced wall treatment we shall suggest. On entering this long, narrow room we face the windows, which are well placed for our purpose. Opposite one window is the door leading to the foyer—an opening of the same width as the window. And if opposite the second window we place a panel of plain beveled mirror glass proportioned the same as the windows and doors, we shall find the apparent width of the room is increased two-fold.



ORIGINAL FLOOR PLAN

The windows may be framed by quite tailored overcurtains hung straight from the top of the frame to the floor. The same curtains may be used on the room side of the door frame, and by reflection the mirror-panel will seem similarly dressed. The subtle charm of such a treatment is difficult to describe and to picture, for the photograph can only hint the illusion of light and space achieved by the mirror, and the fascinating vista through the door to another room.

In point of arrangement and spacing, however, the drawing room illustrated indicates the problem fairly, for here the hostess was confronted with a problem practically the same as Mrs. L.'s. The room is narrow and cut by a door in an unbalanced position. But by the use of two long panel mirrors at either side of the divan, space and light and color are so multiplied in effect that the room is aglow with life and interest—and loses its feeling of narrowness.

For another home-furnishing reason the scheme of this room is so remarkable that its story should be told for all who are interested in modernization. Much has been said about the unsympathetic quality of modern rooms, their "unnaturalness," their severe masculinity and what not—so much that many home-makers have hesitated to venture into this fascinating field of decoration.

But in its newer and better interpretation the modern movement can be accused of none of these faults. Modernism is simple; it is natural; it functions directly. "A lamp no longer hides behind petticoats, but shows itself in its own light," as Robert E Locher, a noted modernist, delights in chiding us. And surfaces and materials which the modern designer uses—glass, paint and crystal, for the most part—are very easy to "housekeep."

The room illustrated is worked out in undeniably modern terms—but as a direct expression of ideals long cherished by its hostess. Her color preferences—the flower and jewel tones—were scrupulously observed—and developed in shades ranging, from the faint pink of the hyacinth to its deepest hue. Against soft gray-shaded walls the mauve rug casts a soft, warm glow; the couch is upholstered in turquoise velvet; the low glass-topped table is of sapphire blue on gold mountings, and on the long panel mirrors painted drapes in shades of sapphire and emerald exactly repeat the curtain treatment at the opposite doorway. The corded paneling of the wall is a distinctly modern note which bears remembering, and note also the charming side-light fixture which resembles a great modernistic hyacinth bud.

We wish the exact scheme might be reproduced for Mrs. L.'s rooms—it is so fresh and colorful and enchanting. But you see we are handicapped by the dark green sofa and the golden brown club chair she has already selected. With the cream walls and these two colors then, she may have a beige rug; a third chair upholstered in a figured modern fabric running through brown, beige and gold tones; the large cushion set may be covered in three shades of brown-to-beige velvet; the desk chair seat in a small-patterned material in various tones of green.

The windows may have full-length, straight hanging glass curtains of beige silk gauze with straight overcurtains of a charming shaded modern fabric running through straw, dull orange and green tones. (We hope the green of the sofa is that rich blue-green which is so lovely with browns, oranges and beige.) The same material should be used for the side curtains at the doorway. It will not be necessary for Mrs. L. to have her mirror painted. As it is directly opposite the windows it will reflect the drapery treatment as though it belonged to itself.

In addition to the gay colored books in the modern bookcase, Mrs. L. may have interesting modern objects. A long, low table before the sofa would add balance and convenience to the room and the round coffee table can then be placed beside the easy chair near the window. A modernistic cabinet desk would seem a smart and useful piece for the wall to the left of the entrance. The new chair should be of a size and type that is in fair balance with the club chair. The cushion-chair—a distinctly modern invention—comes in sets of three sturdy spring cushions which may be unfolded to form a comfortable chair, or unfolded further still in a low chaise-longue effect. These pieces are very smart and practical—and not expensive.

Youthful Make-Up

MORE effective than "young" clothes or a debutante haircut, more effective even than youthful manners or moods, is a youthful make-up. Nearly every face knows the need of a touch of rouge or a layer of lipstick, yet often the final effect is rather aging. Haven't you heard women wonder, "Why is it I look older the minute I put on rouge?" Perhaps you have observed this alchemy take place in yourself. It is a fact that many women look young minus make-up. Nevertheless that is no criticism of cosmetics—it is a criticism of the manner of their application.

© FRANCES OLIVIER

Rare is that lady who exercises restraint in the use of rouge. Most of us make the unbecoming mistake of overdoing the painting job. Is it any wonder then that the finished portrait gives an impression of hardness and added years?

Study the dawn glow on a healthy face in its teens. You will note that the color rises high on the face, and not somewhere down around the jaw, where a great many women seem to think artificial color belongs. You will note, too, that the color of a youthful blush is clear and bright, regardless of its intensity or lack of it.

When you rouge, if you would create the illusion of youth, keep your color up in the region of your eyes, more precisely, around the upper part of the cheeks. And always choose a clear bright red tone rather than those dark wincy or purplish tones. Some of us have been misguided into thinking these sombre rouge tints are "conservative." Well, maybe they are, but just the same they look simply horrible on the human face.

There is one other characteristic which you cannot fail to notice about a tenderly young skin, and that is it has a sheen. Something of the delicate waxen finish that a flower petal has. More mature faces can achieve pretty much the same effect by being frugal with powder. Skin packed tight with powder ceases to look like skin—it bears more of a resemblance to plaster.

A foundation layer of cream beneath the powder helps considerably to give the skin the flower finish we just spoke of, provided, of course, that the powdering is not overdone. Otherwise one succeeds in producing only a pasty finish.

There is one item of face decoration that must be used sparingly or not at all, and that is eye make-up. One coat too many of mascara or eye shadow and the whole person looks old—and worse.

Often we have wondered about the tendency of the majority to be overgenerous in this matter of finishing touches. It cannot be due to lack of good taste, for some of the most flagrant offenders are women who dress themselves with impeccable taste. We have concluded that the main trouble is loss of perspective. It is rather difficult to bring a fresh point of view to a job so thoroughly routine as making up. And so our suggestion is go without make-up for a day now and then so as to get a "fresh slant" on your art.

"Yes, son."

"Where does the electric light go when you turn it out?"

"Don't be silly. It doesn't go anywhere."

"Why doesn't it go anywhere?"

"Because it can't."

"Doesn't it go out?"

"Certainly it goes out."

A DISH A DAY

By Nancy Dorris

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

Rich chocolate whip approaches the ideal dinner dessert, judging by the requests for a repetition of chocolate delight, one of the Column's best quick desserts. Fifteen minutes more than suffices to prepare the simple sweet in the kitchen or kitchenless apartment. The woman short on culinary experience enjoys the same success as her more experienced sister.

When eggs are not sky high in price, the chocolate fluff becomes a most economical confection. Six to eight are served by

CHOCOLATE DELIGHT

Two squares unsweetened chocolate
Six eggs, beaten separately
One cup sugar, very fine
A dash of cinnamon
One teaspoon vanilla
Servings: Six or eight.

NANCY DORRIS

Made one day and stored in the roomy refrigerator, the dessert is ready to serve pronto at the company meal; or made in the morning and chilled during the day, it is borne to the family table in perfect form. A most obliging dessert!

Cut the chocolate into small pieces and place in the small bowl or cup. Set this in the saucepan containing a little cup of hot water. Heat over a low flame, taking care that no water gets into the melting chocolate.

Place the yolks of the eggs in the large bowl—this will later hold the finished dessert, so make it large enough, please. The egg whites go into a large bowl, where they may be whipped dry.

Beat the yolks of the eggs well and gradually add the fine sugar—powdered is good. Beat until light and foamy. The chocolate should be melted by this time. Take from fire and turn off the heat.

Add the chocolate slowly to the beaten yolks-sugar. The heat will cook the mixture slightly. Set aside. Whip the egg whites until very dry. More concoctions calling for stiffly beaten egg whites have been ruined by half-hearted whipping than one dreams.

Fold the dry whites into the chocolate mixture lightly; flavor with the dash of cinnamon—a favorite trick for emphasizing the chocolate note—and the vanilla.

Pile the delight into the parfait glasses roughly and place in the ice-box, or on the ledge outside the window, until wanted. An hour is sufficient to cool the sweet. But, as this dessert mellows with standing, overnight in the ice-box or a cool place is advised. The delight may be prepared a day ahead of the dinner party or bridge-luncheon. A spoon of whipped cream adds the right touch of festivity for the company luncheon or dinner.

The dinner preceding the delightful delight might be: A fresh shrimp cocktail, juicy roast beef, or even chopped beef and browned potatoes, wax beans in butter, romaine and French dressing and hot rolls. Perfect coffee, of course, follows, or accompanies, the chocolate sweet.

MYERS NIGHT DELAYED BY ONETAH TRIBE

Russell Myers Night, originally scheduled for March 3, has been postponed until April 7, according to an announcement made at a meeting of Onetah Tribe of Redmen in the Redmen hall alst night.

Postponement was made due to the inability of a degree team to be present on March 3.

R. Barda, sachem of the tribe last night appointed his organization committee. It is composed of C. E. Daley, C. Xavier and Barda.

This committe will meet with the Onetah Council, Degree of Pocahontas committee and make arrangements for the membership contest now under way by the two groups.

The contest opened last Thursday night and will close May 17, and members of both organizations are striving earnestly for members.

First whisperings of the gigantic annual picnic sponsored by the local tribe were heard last night when R. Barda, Roy Voght and C. E. Daley, local chairmen, announced that it would be held June 29.

The picnic will be open to the public and will be held at Hermansons park in Dublin Canyon.

ANNIVERSARY OF POINT DRUIDS CELEBRATED

Following a short business meeting over which Arch Druidess Fanny Sanfilipo presided, the fifth anniversary of the Point Richmond circle of Druids was celebrated Saturday night in the Druid hall, Point Richmond.

The party opened with a banquet for members only, and was followed by dancing to which members of the grove and their families were present.

The arrangements for the party were made by Mrs. Marie Sedidono and Mrs. F. Novarini.

The hall was crowded to capacity and everyone expressed their satisfaction with the party.

"CONDEMNING SHADOWS"

[Shakespeare, 1564-1616]

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—you men who would keep that trim, proper form, eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain that lithe, youthful, modern figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate! . . . Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

Five names—Walsh, McLaglen, Brendel, Dorsay and Moran, each box-office headliners—play an important share in the Fox Movietone all talking picture, "Hot For Paris," which comes to the Fox-California theater for an engagement of two days starting today.

In the world of film entertainment the name of Raoul Walsh as director stands at the top of the list. At the moment his production, "The Cock Eyed World" is still breaking records around the world, with a world's record established at the Roxy, New York, where it was premiered. Victor McLaglen, famed above his other characterizations as the "Flagg" of "What Price Glory" and "The Cock Eyed World" El Brendel, the comedy hit of "Sunny Side Up" and Fifi Dorsay, the French irrepressible whose first picture, "They Had to See Paris" endeared her to the nation.

With Walsh directing and McLaglen, Brendel and Fifi Dorsay co-featured "Hot For Paris" could be nothing else than th esparkling entertainment that it is. The story revolves around McLaglen, first mate of a windjammer, who buys a ticket which wins the big prize in the Grand Prix in Paris. He does not know he has won a million and the sweepstakes office where he purchased the ticket persistently hunts to find him. Believing that they are officers on his trial he eludes them and in running away encounters Fifi Dorsay, a singer and dancer in a cafe at Havre, falls in love with her and has many hilarious adventures leading to an amazing conclusion.

Also on the bill is a Clark and McCullough comedy "Hired and Fired."

Burglar Suspect Arrested Here

Ted Auglar, 440 A street, is in the city jail in lieu of $1000 bail awaiting preliminary hearing on a burglary charge.

Auglar was arrested by Patrolman J. E. Blankenship and Merchant Patrolman Emil Graefenecker early yesterday morning at a second hand store at Third street and Macdonald avenue.

The two officers, while making their rounds, decladed that they heard a noise inside of the store. They entered by a side door. Blankenship drew his pistol and covered Auglar, who submitted to arrest. Police declare that they found several small motors, five cheap watches and several other articles in Auglar's possession.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

Saturday and Sunday were spent in the snow covered Sierra Nevada mountains by 15 Boy Scouts of Richmond Troop 10, sponsored by the Richmond Lions club. The group stayed at Longbarn. The trip was held under the direction of Dr. G. A. Boehmer.

Skiing, snow ball battles, and other exciting winter sports were enjoyed by the boys. When they arrived at Longbarn, rain was falling. However, the rain soon cleared, and the boys were able to start rollicking in the snow. When they awoke Sunday morning, snow was falling. Six inches had fallen during the night, and it continued until the boys left for Richmond. Many of the local scouts last week-end saw snow for the first time in their lives.

The troop started for Longbarn Saturday at 3 o'clock in the morning, and arrived at their destination at 1:30 o'clock. They left Longbarn at 12:30 Sunday afternoon, and were back home by eight o'clock.

The machines were driven by Dr. Boehmer, David M. Rose, Carl Overaa, James Walker and W. E. Wright.

Richmond Service Station Robbery Confessed By Youth

According to a report received by the Richmond police department yesterday, Roland Harper, 20, of Oakland, taken into custody by Oakland police yesterday, confessed to being one of the pair that held up a service station at San Pablo and Macdonald avenues the night of Jan. 28.

Harper was arrested in connection with other robberies in Oakland, and although local authorities are preparing a complaint against the youth, it is probable Oakland police will handle the case. He refused to reveal the identity of his partner in the service station robbery.

Riding into the service station, in a stolen car, the two bandits held the attendant, John Rector, 5110 Amador street, at the point of a gun and rifled the cash register. They obtained $23.

Rector gave a good description of the pair, stating that one had red hair. Harper proved to be the red haired member of the couple.

Up County Night For Elks Tonight

"Up - County Night" will be held by the Richmond lodge of Elks tonight at the local clubrooms. The event will be under the direction of James F. Hoey and will be featured by a program.

Plans are being discussed by the group for a St. Patrick's day dinner dance to be held March 8 at the Oakland Elks' temple. M. E. Hazelton will be in charge.

New Complaint In Parr-City Damage Action

Copies of an amended complaint in the $100,000 damage suit of the Richmond Terminal corporation against the City of Richmond and Fred D. Parr have been served on the city officials and officials of the Parr Terminal corporation.

The suit was filed several years ago following the ejection of the Richmond Terminal corporation from the Richmond Municipal Terminal and the turning over of the theminal to Parr under a 50 year lease.

The ejected corporation claimed damages for loss of business it had enjoyed while operating the docks under contract with the city. Claiming that the contract had expired, the city contended the corporation had no grounds for damages.

A demurrer by the city and Parr contended that the cause of action had not been shown in the complaint was recently sustained by the San Francisco Superior court, at the same time giving the plaintiff permission to file an amended complaint if so desired.

In the new complaint an effort is being made to set up grounds for damages.

POISON VICTIM RECOVERING HERE

Miss Mildred Atwood, 17, of 136 Second street, is recovering at her home from the effects of food poisoning suffered at a banquet of the Salvation Army in the San Francisco Masonic temple Sunday night. Miss Atwood was the only one of the 16 Richmond persons who attended the banquet who was affected by the strange illness that attacked 146 persons. She was treated at the emergency hospital in San Francisco and was later removed to her home here.

The dinner was given in honor of the young people of the Salvation Army as a part of the Golden Jubilee celebration. More than 550 were in attendance and one third of them were stricken.

Two investigations were underway yesterday to determine what the poison was and where it came from. One investigation is being conducted by the San Francisco police and the second by the Salvation Army.

In every case the symptoms were the same, violent nausea, cramps and in some cases, a lapse into unconsciousness.

Private automobiles, sightseeing buses and trucks were pressed into service to remove the sick to the hospitals. Radio stations broadcast appeals for aid and warned those who had left the banquet.

Mrs. Omar Knutsonfi formerly of Richmond and Col. A. W. Crawford, father of Rheba Crawford were among the many listed as ill.

Among those present from Richmond were Adjutant and Mrs. Malcolm Keene, and their four children Lieut. Lulu Carter, Miss Mary Atwood, sister of Wilma; Miss Henrietta Cushman, Miss Helen Bumgarner, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Dimock, Mrs. George Rice, Mrs. Tony Silva and son Donald.

5 WARS LISTED ON PENSION ROLLS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 24—At the present time, veterans, or the dependents of veterans, of five wars are on the pension roll of the United States. This includes pensions to five widows of the war of 1812 and to ten widows of the Mexican war, although no veterans of either war survive. The five wars for service in which pensions are being paid include the war of 1812, the Indian wars, the Mexican war, Spanish-American war, and the Civil war.

During the period between the declaration of war, April 6, 1917, and the establishment of the war risk insurance division of the government the following October, no federal agency existed with authority to care for the dependents or claimants upon the government due to the world war. As a result the Bureau of Pensions handled such cases as arose during that period.

Pensions Sought

At the present date, however, so numerous are the claims and so great the need, not only of the dependents of the world war veterans, but the veterans thmselves, that the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States is making every effort to get a world war service pension bill passed which primarily provides a pension for all disabled veterans who receive no other form of compensation. Pensions under this legislation would be granted in accordance with the individual veteran's disability. This bill may come before Congress during the present session, but if delayed in committee, postponement will merely aggravate increase dsupport.

The V. F. W. world war service pension bill, known as H. R. 9138, is similar to bills that were passed following both the Spanish-American and Civil wars. At no time has the government refused to adequately care for veterans who served the U. S. and it is highly improbable that this will happen now.

To Aid Needy

According to Hezekiah N. Duff, national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S., the V. F. W. pension bill is designed to help the following classes of world war veterans:

"Men, who because of their service in the trenches, in the holds of ships, and transports, in draughty billets, and stables and makeshift shelters, have become susceptible to disease and disability, which is beginning to show up in later life when their resisting power is beginning to lessen.

"Men, who have had service connection but who failed to file their claim January 1, 1927, depending rather to work their way in the world without the necessity of calling upon the government for aid or compensation, but who now find either for financial or physical reasons they are forced to seek aid from their government.

"Men who failed to build up medical records for themselves while in service, and who steadfastly refused to go back to dressing stations or hospitals while their own companies and battalions were advancing. Thus there was no record of their injuries."

Generally speaking, the V. F. W. pension bill is designed to take care of that large class of veterans who are having difficulty in proving service connection.

Mrs. Rowden Funeral Held

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Sarah Mae Rowden, West Side resident, yesterday in Sacramento. The body was laid to rest in the Thompson family plot in the Odd Fellows cemetery in that city. Funeral services were conducted at the grave by Rev. A. A. Pratt of the iFrst Presbyterian church of Richmond. Mrs. Rowden was laid beside her father W. L. Thompson, whose death occurred a year ago.

The body was taken to Sacramento by Wilson and Kratzer's hearse.

THEATER WINS DAMAGE SUIT

MARTINEZ, Feb. 24.——Motion of Deputy District Attorney James F. Hoey, representing the West Coast Theaters in the suit of Robert Mayer, 10 and his father William Mayer of Richmond, for nonsuit in the trial was today granted by Superior Judge H. V. Alvarado.

In making the decision the court ruled that the plaintiffs had failed to show negligence on the part of the theater.

The Mayers, in filing suit, had asked $41,000 for injuries sustained by the boy when he fell from the balcony of the Fox-California theater in Richmond four years ago, after falling asleep and being locked in the theater at the close of the show.

Ford To Open Test Pile Bids

Details for the construction of the Ford assembly plant on the inner harbor are being worked out by officials of the company, it was revealed here yesterday. Since the announcement of plans for construction from Detroit some time ago, work has been going ahead for the early construction of the plant.

Bids are to be opened in Detroit tomorrow for the sinking of test piling on the plant site. Test holes were recently bored and the next step is the sinking of these test piles.

LEGION POST TO INITIATE

One of the outstanding Legion events of the year will take place Thursday night, when Richmond Post No. 10 of the American Legion holds an initiation in the Richmond Memorial hall.

A large class of candidates are in readiness for the ceremonies, and two fluent speakers have been obtained for the evening.

They are Art Young and Phil Solon, both of Oakland. Young is past area commander of this district, and Solon is past chef-de-guerre of the 40 and 8 group.

The initiation will be open to Legionnaires, members of the auxiliary and their families.

Following the initiation, dancing and cards will be enjoyed, and a banquet will complete the evening.

Lindy Resumes Glider Flights

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 24.—UP—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh resumed his air glider flights today and proceeded to give his audience an hour of worry by sailing out of sight before he landed.

Col. Lindbergh took off from a point near the top of Mt. Soledad. He flew out of the vision of the crowd watching and did not return.

After a search he was found 20 miles north of here, near Carlsbad. He had a hearty laugh over the affair and then left for Los Angeles by airplane.

Cub Rookie First Baseball Casual

AVALON, Catalina Island, Feb. 24.—UP—The first injury of the sprin gtraining season in the Chicago Cub camp here occured today when Lewis Warneke, a rookie pitcher, was hit over the eye by a bat.

The bat was thrown by Bill Mcaskee, another rookie twirler, during practice. Three stitches were taken above Warnekes eye. The pitchers and catchers worked out for two hours today.

PAL MARRIAGE HIT BY COURT

DENVER, Feb. 24.—UP—Companionate marriage was condemned in bitter terms by the Colorado State Supreme court today in handing down a decision holding "utterly void," a prenuptial agreement between the late Dr. Charles M. Duncan, Denver physician, and Hattie E. Duncan, his wife.

Chief Justice Greeley W. Whitford, denounced the contract under which Dr. Duncan and his wife agreed to live together only as long as both parties were agreeable to the marriage, as "nothing more, in effect, than an attempt to legalize prostitution."

The agreement provided that if the couple separated Mrs. Duncan would receive $100 for every year they had lived together, and would wave any right to alimony or a widow's share in his estate.

They were married Dec. 16, 1924 and separated about 14 months later. Dr. Duncan, paid his wife $110 and in turn was given a receipt. After his death she sued for one half of his estate and on appeal to the district court was awarded the widow's share. The Supreme Court upheld the district court finding.

New Dry Law For Germany

BERLIN, Feb. 21.—UP— Popular belief that a proposed law for restricting liquor sales in Germany would mean the first step towards total prohibition was dissipated today when backers of the measure explained its purposes. The bill is now before the Reichstag's economic committee.

Answering statements of economists that prohibition in Germany would mean the addition of 1,000,000 workers to the ranks of unemployed, the advocates of the bill said there was no attempt to initiate extensive restrictions on liquor sales and that national customs would render such a move futile.

The bill would, however, grant a ration of only one saloon for each 400 inhabitants in comparison to the present ration in Prussia of oie to each 230 inhabitants.

Another feature of the bill would fix the government closing hour at 1 a. m.

Giants Play First Game

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 14.—UP— Sam Leslie, the sluging first baseman the Giants are attempting to convert into an outfielder occupied the spotlight as the Giants went through their first practice game, won by the Whites, who defeated the Greys 16 to 10. Leslie hit two triples, a double and a single in four official trips. Jack Scott who played right field for the victors, hit five out of five and stole a base.

Detroit Offices Guarded In Riot

DETROIT, Feb. 24.—UP—Extra guards were placed about all government buildings here tonight after a day of unemployment disorder climaxed by a riot which police quelled with tear gas bombs.

The riot flared when 60 policemen on the suburbs of Hamptramack, clashed with 700 unemployed men who were marching on the suburban city hall. Several tear gas bombs were thrown before police finally dispersed the mob.

Holdout Pitchers Barred From Camp

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 24—(U.P.)—Pitchers Ed Brandt, Ben Cantwell and Johnnie Cooney were barred from the opening workout of the Boston Braves today.

Manager Bill McKecknie explained that in sending out contracts players were warned that only those who had agreed to terms would be welcome at training camp. None of the trio of pitchers have signed contracts.

DEATH PLOT IN VICE PROBE REVEALED

sing you" and advised Smith not to return to Oakland.

At that time District Attorney Earl Warren was looking for Smith on a grand theft charge, and Titus, according to Smith's statements, suggested they meet in Monterey.

While there Smith testified that Titus told him that Becker was "looking for you." He declared, according to Smith, that Becker had a confession for Smith to sign, that he had collected all the alleged graft and "protection" money for himself.

Accidentally Shot

Titus told Smith, according to the latter's testimony today, that after Smith had signed the confession "you will resist arrest—or they will say you resisted arrest, and you will be 'accidentally' shot."

Smith declared that as soon as he heard this, he went immediately to his hiding place and did not see Becker until the latter met him in Los Angeles and "gave him money to get out of the country."

The testimony offered the grand jury by Smith climaxed a series of revelations by the former San Leandro man, of bootleg and Chinese lottery "tribute" and of wild parties in Alameda county, in which Becker, his deputies J. J. Collier and J. L. Davis, and Commissioner Parger participated.

Parker Won't Talk

The joining of the "I Won't Talk" club by Commissioner Parker in his refusal to testify before the grand jury provided another sensation in today's proceedings.

Parker's refusal to talk followed an interrogation as to whether or not he had accepted bribes from paving contractors or money for the protection of bootleggers and lotteries.

An open letter to the grand jury from Parker charged the investigation as conducted had been "profaned by unusual and un-American tactics" and that "men on the threshold of San Quentin are coddled and featured as champions of the truth."

Gunness, uncle of Smith, testified that he saw Becker and Parker give Smith $100 with the understanding that another $500 would be forwarded him. He also substantiated Mrs. Smith's former testimony that she had seen a letter in what "looked like" Becker's handwriting, warning Smith that Warren was "looking" for him.

List Disclosed

Smith disclosed a long list of alleged bootleg and lottery establishments from which "protection" money was received.

Smith explained to the grand jury that the money was paid over to him on a promise from deputy sheriffs that the proprietor of such an establishment would be "tipped" off prior to any raid so that he might destroy the evidence.

Smith disclosed to the grand jury in his testimony how he had been active in the campaign for Becker's election and of his subsequent meeting with Collier and Davis, the sheriff's deputies.

They immediately, Smith testified, went out "calling" and lined up "protection" money. Several places, Smith declared, received free protection, and he was warned to "leave them alone."

Tells Of Collections

If he failed to make his "rounds" on the date set, Smith said, the money would be left in envelopes at his San Leandro office. Smith stated Collier and Davis called at his home almost every morning, where Smith turned over to them the 50 per cent agreed upon, and the 25 per cent going into a permanent campaign fund for Becker, Parker, and their friends. The other 25 per cent, Smith testified, he kept himself.

Alhough Davis and Collier, according to Smith's testimony, were to take care of other deputies out of their purported share, Deputy Sheriff A. R. Shurtleff, a former prohibition agent demanded his "cut."

It was therefore arranged, Smith said, that he should sell Shurtleff an automobile to be paid for at $25 a month out of the reputed "Becker-Parker campaign fund."

3 Checks Submitted

Three checks totaling $149.16 were laid before the grand jury by Smith, paid to the Commonwealth Finance corporation and signed by his wife, Edna, as agent for her husband, the custodian of the "fund." On each check was the notation "Shurtleff payment."

Collection of $300 a month for "protection" of a Chinese lottery and the collection of $4200 from C. L. Ormsby for similar purposes were also related by Smith.

Relation of the organization to the Greater Oakland Paving company was also given by Smith. In this company, Smith testified, Floyd Van Noy and Thomas Murphy of Los Angeles became interested. Becker and Parker, Smith declared, were to get $25,000 worth of promotion stock under ficticious names. Dan McCarthy, a close friend of Parker, was to take $20,000 worth and the Gardella brothers, purported Livermore bootleggers, were to take $10,000 worth.

Murphy, Smith said, was to be president and Roger Coit, an Oakland capitalist, Fred Snook, Van Noy and himself were to be directors.

Attorney Ormsby drew up the papers and obtained the corporation commissioner's permission to sell stock, but before the company was fairly launched, the permit was revoked.

Justices Of Peace Given Instructions

Justices of the peace in this district yesterday received letters of instruction from Deputy District Hiram Jacobs instructing them not to file complaints or issue warrants in any case to be handled by the district attorney's office, until instructed to do so by the district attorney or deputy.

The letters also instruct the judges not to reduce charges against defendants until advised to do so by the district attorney's office.

Judges were also advised against the practice of acting as prosecuting attorney as well as judges in a case, as such practice was declared to lower the standard of the judiciary.

An effort is being made to standardize the proccdure in inferior courts and to make it confirm with the usual rules of court procedure.

Salvation Army Leaders Arrive For Local Work

Adjutant and Mrs. Malcom Keene and Lieut. Lula Carter, succeeding Capt. Nadine Grindle and Emily Hacker, who have been transferred to the Vallejo Salvation Army, arrived in Richmond last week and have taken over direction of the local work.

Mr. and Mrs. Keene have spent the last 10 years under the jurisdiction of the Chicago Salvation Army and come to Richmond from Des Moines, Ia.

Lieut. Carter comes from Grand Rapids, Mich., and will serve as Keene's assistant.

Bear, Cardinal Swimmers Will Meet Saturday

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 24.—California and Stanford swimming teams will engage in their annual dual meet here next Saturday afternoon at one o'clock, before the Stanford-L. A. A. C. track and field meet. While the Cards are top-heavy favorites to win by a comfortable margin, a number of events promise to bring out some hard fought individual battles. It will be the first intercollegiate meet held in Stanford's new swimming plant in which the bleachers hold 2000 people. A near capacity crowd is expected.

Slayer Of Five Sentenced To Hang

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24—(U.P.)—Armando Boltares, Mexican truck driver, was sentenced today to die on the gallows five times for the slaying of five members of the Alvarez-Garcia family. He used an axe to kill them after a liquor traffic dispute. Boltares was convicted after pleading not guilty by reason of insanity.

REBELLION IN SANTO DOMINGO

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—(U.P.)—Rebels, consisting of members of opposite party to the government of Santo Domingo, assisted by some of the army, have captured Fort Santiago De Les Cavalleros and the seaport of Monte Cristi and have sent troops against the capital, according to official advices received at the Dominican legation here late tonight.

The dispatch from President Vas Quez, first official news of the uprising received at the legation here, was given verbally to the United Press as follows:

"Opposition party to government, assisted by army, took Fort Santiago De Los Cavalleros and Monte Cristi and from there sent troops against the capital and other towns. Attempts are being made by the rebels to effect a reconciliation through the American legation at Santo Domingo City."

Hoover Says Nation Will Face Deficit

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—UP—President Hoover gathered house, senate and treasury officials around him at the White House today and expounded a problem in arithmetic. He explained that a budget of $3,830,000,000 plus demand expenditures of $1,735,000,000 subtracted from an estimated national income of $4,249,263,434 equaled a deficit and 40 percent higher taxation.

Congress may appropriate only $50,000,000 more than is called for in present authorizations and the budget without getting into deep financial water, Hoover said. He suggested that legislation benefiting World War veterans be given first claim on this marginal sum.

The government revenue for the current fiscal year, treasury officials admit, will be smaller than was anticipated last December. Since then congress has voted a $160,000,000 tax reduction, while the recent stock market crash is expected to have a retarding effect on tax returns.

Sproule Death Laid To Acute Alcoholism

LOCAL CAGERS END SEASON TOMORROW

Basketball is going, going—but not gone until tomorrow night, at least for local fans. On that final hoop card of the Richmond cage season, the Garfinkle All-Stars are scheduled with either St. Mary's college five or the Petaluma Y. L. I. cagers. Plans are being made to secure the Athens club second team as opposition to the Richmond All-Star lightweight team. A game of special interest will be played between the Richmond Y. L. I. and the Spartan girls' team of Petaluma.

The local basketball directors are in doubt as to whether they will be able to secure the St. Mary's college athletes for tomorrow night's contest at the Richmond Union high school. St. Mary's will play a game tonight and her cagers may therefore not be able to engage the locals tomorrow. However, if the Petaluma Y. M. I. boys are engaged to play on the Richmond high school court tomorrow night, fans ought to see a hard fought basketball game.

An especial treat will be offered to local fans if the Athens club meets the Richmond 145 pounders, which seems probable.

The Petaluma Spartan girls' team has a great reputation here as a result of its easy victory over the Oleum girls several weeks ago. The sensational Y. L. I. team of Richmond will have a tough game to play tomorrow night against the Spartans of Petaluma.

Local Soccer Team Loses To Phoenix

The Richmond Soccer club lost its second chance to go into a tie for first place in the Eastbay Junior Soccer league Sunday when it was defeated 2 to 0 by the Phoenix club of Oakland at the Oakland Trotting park.

The Phoenix athletes proved a bit too fast for the local boys, although Richmond waged a sub-born fight from the first to last whistle. The Richmond players were not able to keep the play out of their own territory and twice allowed the Oaklanders to slip the ball into their net at close range. The Phoenix soccerites have a fast style of playing against which the passing attack and steady defense of the Richmond boys is ineffective.

There were two other upsets Sunday in the junior soccer league besides the contest in which Richmond was concerned. The Hakoahs defeated the Turnvereins 5 to 0, while the Scandias lost to the Ibericoes by a score of 1 to 0.

Richmond's chance of playing in the finals of the league were by no means abolished by Sunday's defeat. There are yet about three games to be played, and, if they have a winning streak during the next month, the local athletes may yet be playing for the title. If Richmond can repeat several of its earlier 5 to 1 victories, it will once more be "sitting pretty."

Ladders Tennis Games Advanced

Richmond tennis athletes participated Sunday in one more round of the ladder tournament being held by the Richmond Tennis association. Irwin Sutton defeated Carlin, 6-3, 6-2. Carl Peterson lost to Wally Kruger by scores of 8-6, 6-2. Fred Charles won by default from W. Regalia. In the doubles, Irwin and Darrow Sutton won by default from Murdock and Carlin. A match between Murdock and Jim Hurley was not played because of rain.

A large schedule has been arranged for next Sunday's round of the tournament. The contests are as follows: Singles—Lemes vs. Remell;; B. Charles vs L. Moore; Truitt vs Regalia; Fred Charles vs Murdock; Doubles—C. Peterson, Grant, vs Hayes, J. Hurley; C. Peterson, C. Charles vs Carlin, Murdock.

The contests are being held on the city hall courts.

Carnera Takes Another Victim

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 24.—UP—Primo Carnera, huge Italian heavyweight contender added Farmer Lodge to his string of American knockout victories tonight after one minute and 22 seconds of fighting in the second round of their scheduled ten round bout.

After flooring the veteran St. Paul heavyweight for a count of nine, earlier in the round, Carnera swept over a fast right uppercut which stretched Lodge's big body on the canvas.

Primo's victory was greeted with mingled cheers and boos. He weighed 286, Lodge weighed 235.

CARDINAL TRACK, FIELD TEAM OPENS YEAR WITH HARD CONTEST

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 24—"Dink" Templeton's Stanford track and field team may be faced with a most unusual situation when it opens the 1930 campaign against the Los Angeles Athletic club in the Cardinal bowl here Saturday—that of having to pile up enough points on the track to overcome an almost certain deficit in the field events.

While ruling the collegiate roost in track and field athletics in the past three years, the Cards have almost always depended upon their overwhelming strength on the field to pull them through. Templeton still has power in the weights and broad jump, but to date has uncovered no javelin throwers, high jumpers or pole vaulters of very high calibre. And unfortunately for Stanford, the Mercuries are very powerful in these three events.

Low In 3 Events

In the javelin, L. A. A. C. has DeMers, Eaton and Hoover, each over 200 feet while the Cardinals cannot muster a single man who can throw farther than 175 feet at present. Gill and Feefer of the club team have climbed 6 feet 2 inches in the high jump this season and Bell is capable of doing even better if in shape. Madison and Allen of the Cards will clear about 5 feet 10 inches. Graham and the Smith brothers give the Mercuries a trio of high class pole vaulters. Graham cleared 13 feet 4 inches last week and the other two can do 13 feet almost any time. Berry of Stanford has had trouble getting over 12 feet 6 inches, while DeGroot, Johns and Beeman are somewhat lower. Three points in these three events seem to be about the Cardinals' limit.

In the shot put, Krenz and Rothert of Stanford have about an even chance with Herman Brix, club ace. Any one of this trio might put 51 feet or more. Krenz, who holds the world's record in the discus should win this event rather easily, leaving his teammates George Grey and Harlow Rothert to battle it out with Brix and Bud Houser, if he makes the trip, for the other two places. Grey, Rothert and Brix are all around 140 feet. With Dowell, Werder, West and Butler all doing better than 23 feet, Stanford should annex most of the points in the broad jump as the southerners do not appear to be very strong in this event.

Sprints To Be Close

The sprints should bring out some of the closest competition on the track. Hector Dyer, Stanford ace, will have his hands full matching strides with Ray Alf of the club. Alf was national junior 220 yard champion last year and has already run 10 flat and 21 4-5 second this season. Schultz, Darling and Pinney of the L. A. A. C. squad will have a tough time keeping ahead of the Card youngsters, Giberson and Howell.

Morrison and Shove have an opportunity to make it one, two for the redshirts in the quarter mile although the latter is slated for a battle against Clark, Bruckman, Worden and Chapman. Niersbach is expected to win the half mile for the club and Burton, Lovejoy or Clum may let the Cards down with a third place. Atkinson and Cooper of Stanford can do around 2 minutes but neither has had enough experience to be dependable.

Mile Tossup

The mile looks to be a tossup with Parker battling Chaca and some of the other Sherman Institute Indians. The Indians seem to have an edge over Brown of the reds in the two mile and that young man will have to step to take a second place.

If all hands are in good shape, the hurdles should bring out some spectacular races. Pudge Smith of the Cardinals and Pomeroy of the club have each done 15 seconds this season and Nisbet of the collegians should not be much slower if he has recovered sufficiently from his cold. Bob Maxwell ought to at least give L. A. A. C. the odd point. The low sticks will find Pudge Smith, Don Nelson, and Nisbet pitted against an exceedingly fast field including Maxwell, who is at his best in this race, Pomeroy and a pair of former Trojan stars—Kenny Grumbles and Alex Graham.

The relay should go to Stanford but judging from the outlook, the Mercuries will have the meet in the bag by the time this race is run.

No Changes In Majors This Year

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—UP—Baseball, now in the spring training stage, will open the 1930 season retaining all its faults and without having adopted any of the suggestions for improvement made at the close of last year's campaign.

Magnates ignored agitation for various changes and the "lively' ball, the extended schedules and the antiquated "world series" retain an important place in the program.

Club owners are convinced that home run hitting is directly responsible for the growth of baseball interest and refused to consider any plan to make the ball less resilient.

The 154 game schedule was retained, but the magnates did condense the season into one week's less playing time, closing the regular season Sept. 28.

President Heydler's suggestion that some new method of interleague competition be instituted to make the "world series" a fairer test of league supremacy was shelved—along with his now famous "ten man team" idea of the previous year.

The baseball men were too conservative to consider seriously suggestions that two popular features of ice hockey competition be applied to baseball. Judge Emil Fuchs of Boston was ridiculed for his advocacy of the hockey penalty system for baseball.

The second hockey feature recommended for baseball was a system of interleague competition and championship contests similar to hockey's Stanley Cup playoffs. This plan calls for the three leading teams in each league to compete in the playoffs to decide the world champions.

Thomas Game Halted By Rain

The Motors contest with the P .S. E. A. nine of Oakland scheduled for last Sunday was postponed until next week-end because of rain.

The schedule for the next few weeks in the Oakland Winter league is rather uncetrain, as a result of a four way tie between the San Pablans, Thomas Motors, Eagles, and P. S. E. A. However, it is believed that the contest postponed from Sunday will be played next week.

MEDAL FOR BIRD HOUSE

NEW YORK—The French Universities post of American Legion, 225 Fifth avenue, has offered a medal to Boy Scout troops of the former Camp Meritt area in New Jersey, for the best bird house constructed.

CARD WATER TEAM WILL GO EAST

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 24—(U.P.)—Ten Stanford swimmers and divers will carry the Cardinal colors into eastern competition the latter part of March when the Stanford mermen will travel east for three championship meets, the Board of Athletic Control announced tonight.

The Cardinal schedule in the east is: Swimming and water polo against the Northwestern University, March 26; National Collegiate Athletic association championships at Cambridge, March 28 and 29; and American Athletic union championships at the Lake Shore Athletic club, Chicago, April 2 to 5.

Those making the trip are Capt. Reggie Harrison, Pacific coast 50-yard free style champion, and John Mokelvey, 50 and 100 yard free style events; Austin Clapp, national interscholastic 440 yard free style champion; Ogden Driggs, Pacific coast 220 yard free style title holder; Frank Booth and Barrett Brown, backstroke; Milton Burns, Pacific coast title holder and Ferdinand Fletcher, breast stroke; Pete DesJardines, world champion, and Ed Thompson, Pacific coast champion, in the diving events.

CORBETT AFTER BOUT FOR TITLE

By M. C. YOUNGS

With the defeating of Jackie Fields, world's welterweight champion, by Young Corbett III Saturday afternoon, a drive on the part of Corbett's managers Ralph Manfredo and Larry White to force teh champ into a return bout with the title at stake, was under way yesterday.

"Gig" Rooney, Field's manager contented himself with stating: "It looks like another fight," after the bout, but later declared that Corbett would have to wait his turn.

By this Rooney meant that he was intending to continue his efforts to secure the 75 "grand" hinted at for a championship fight with Jimmy McLarnin.

White intimated, that a title bout with Fields failing to materialize in the near future, he would seek a bout with McLarnin for the Fresno boy.

With the exception of some of the "sure" boys who were laying ten to four on the champ, and remained after the fight talking to themselves, and perhaps Fields and his manager, the fight was considered highly successful.

Ancil Hoffman, promoting the fight, revealed yesterday that the rain had cut down his profits by no little sum. With Fields raking in $26,433.42 as his share, and Corbett getting $10,573.36, the receipts which measured $62,571.29 were cut considerable, after government tax, ball park rent, state tax and expenses were taken out, Hoffman figured the balance at $7,930, which at that is nothing to kick at.

The main principals in the fight spent a quiet Sunday, Fields visiting San Quentin, and Corbett acting as guest of honor at a banquet in South San Francisco.

Fields left last night for his home in Los Angeles, Corbett is leaving today for Fresno to witness the christening of his two month's o'd baby girl, Josephine, and the public is calming down after a week spent in wondering whether or not it would rain Saturday for the fight.

Santa Clara, Cards To Meet On Diamond

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 24.—Baseball teams of Santa Clara and Stanford will clash here Saturday afternoon after the Cardinal L. A. A. C. track meet in the third and deciding game of their annual series. The Redshirts won the first contest by the wierd score of 19-13 and the Broncos took the second 2-0. Saturday's affair will be a regular California Intercollegiate Baseball association game.

San Pablo Church Cagers Beaten By Oaklanders

The Tenth Avenue Baptist cagers of Oakland defeated the San Pablo Baptist team last night at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium by a score of 32 to 28.

The local squad staged a fast fight but was unable to overcome the lead piled up by the Oaklanders.

Moitoza was high point man for the locals with 15 points while Fagin scored for the winners with 10 points.

The lineups: San Pablo (28)—C. Cervenka (5), Moitoza (15), forwards; G. Cervenka, center; DeCourtin (6), Blount, Vierra (2), guards.

Oakland (32)—F. Samonds (9), Fagin (10), forwards; Brown (8), center; Schenkofsky (2), Turner (2), Kelly (4), guards.

Walt Christie Will Address Local Hi-Y Group

College night will be held at tonight's meeting of the Boys' Hi-Y club at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium.

It is believed that Walt Christie will speak at the affair. Christie is a track coach at the University of California. He is taking the place as speaker tonight, of Coach Clinton Evans of the University of California basketball team, who was scheduled to speak.

The Y. M. D. club will meet on Wednesday night at the local Y. M. C. A. building. The members themselves will furnish the program.

Six Signed For Twilight League

Six baseball teams have signed up for participation in the Richmond Twilight league. The teams already signed are: Insurance Agents, Lions, Standard Oil Boiler Shop, Odd Fellows, Mechanics Bank and Firemen.

Final plans will be made for this year's twilight ball league at the directors' meeting to be held Mar. 5

If theh Standard Oil league is again formed this year, the Richmond Twilight league must go fifty fifty on the First street lot with the Standard Oil circuit.

FOUR WAY TIE IN WINTER LEAGUE

The Oakland Eagles failed in their crucial game of the season Sunday when they were defeated 15 to 5 by the San Pablomine. As a result of that surprising battle, the Eagles, Thomas Motors, San Pablo, and San Leandro are all tied for first place in the Oakland Winter league.

If th eEagles had not suddenly fallen into a mediocre type of playing Sunday, and if San Pablo had not displayed such a fast type of baseball, the title of the second round of the league would now be in the hands of the Eagles.

San Pablo was determined that the league would not come to an end so early in the season. The local sluggers easily connected with the curves of three Eagle chuckers. Kamb did an especially nice job on the mound for the San Pablans, allowing only seven hits.

The entire San Pablo lineup seemed to realize that the prayers of the two other teams then tied for first place were with them. The San Pablo fielders supervised the outfield territory minutely, while the local infilederes baffled the Eagle base runners throughout the contest.

San Pablo did not start its triumphial march until the third canto, when it piled up four counters. It scattered runs through the next five innings, and made a great finale by bringing in six runs in the final period. The only four bagger of the contest was made by Rodgers, San Pablo receiver.

Box score:

	R.	H.	E.
San Pablo	15	21	1
Oakland Eagles	5	7	3

Batteries: Kamb and Rodgers; Coleman, Pirgrass, Gillick, and Dutro.

State Basketball Title Games On

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—UP—A tournament to decide basketball championship of the Pacific association started here tonight. Two of the 16 teams in competition will decide the title after five nights of play.

The first three games were won by lop-sided scores.

The Twin Peaks Parlor of Native Sons vanquished Gustine, 32 to 13.

Shooting baskets at will Olympic Club of San Francisco trounced the Petaluma Y. M. I., 41 to 14.

The next team to qualify for the quarter finals to be played Thursday night was the San Francisco Y. M. I. which beat the San Jose Golds, 38 to 31.

San Francisco's Y. M. C. A. and Herman's of Berkeley flashed in the final game of the night.

The GREEN GODDESS

by LOUISE JORDAN MILN

Copyright, 1922, by Frederick A. Stokes Company

"The Green Goddess," starring George Arliss, is a Warner Bros. Vitaphone picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

After five years of married life, the marriage of Major Anthony Crespin and his wife, Lucilla, is on the rocks, due to his drinking and infidelity. Lucilla finds a friend in her husband's old schoolmate, Dr. Basil Traherne. Traherne falls in love with Lucilla, but when Crespin is about to be dismissed from the service for drunkenly disgracing his regiment, Traherne wins the Colonel's consent to try to cure Crespin's desire for drink, for the entire regiment loves Lucilla. He offers to take the Crespins in his airplane to Pahari where their children had been sent to escape the heat. They accept.

The Raja of Rukh ruled with an unquestioned despotism no Western monarch dreams of, and of which but few in the past ever have dreamed, and none ever has attained. The Raja had traveled, he had broken strange, unconsecrated breads, eaten strange, polluted meats. He had lived in Europe, and now in the fortress-home to which he had come back to his own he in his own person mingled ways of Europe with the ways of his fathers. At this his people had wondered a little, but not one had doubted or questioned, for the Raja was god in Rukh, and the gods but satellites of his power and rank.

He had been away, and he had come back to them; that was all they knew; and that he had come back was all they cared. He had brought back with him one grotesque curio at which they gaped for a time, and then ignored with stolid disgust as far as they could: a white ape of a man—if it was a man—who became their master's valet.

In almost the one level place in the principality was builded the temple, and housed the gods. This level place was small, a scant platform of earth wedged between two masses of rock. Between the pillars in the middle section was a seated stone figure, a six-armed goddess, forbidding, ferocious of aspect, colored face, arms and rough indicated robes a dark and sinister green. Untidy and moldering wreaths and handfuls of flowers decorated the temple's honeycombed walls, and lay on its spattered floor.

The open space before the open temple formed between the two rock-masses a rudely paved forecourt to the temple. It was bordered by a sparse company of smaller idols, probably too comparatively insignificant to be housed with the six-armed monstrosity in the blood-spattered, bat-infested cave. Three round-headed stone posts stood near the outer lesser gods, and were painted green.

Today the worshippers were lingering excitedly in the courtyard, watching wide-eyed something up in the air, a great gray and silver bird of prey, a strange fish-like bird with amazing markings of blue and red on its silver belly—a horrible monster bird of prey whose like they never had seen or heard tell of; and it was swooping down on them with a hideous cracking whizz.

'Oo-ae! Oo-ae!" they all cried then in mingled gutturals of dismay and despair.

It was a pathetically hideous group of unkempt, squat, frightened hillsmen, high-cheeked, rather Mongol in type, strong-limbed, stupid of face, adding nothing of color to the dark drab place, for their rough, almost unmade garments were somber and dark. A man of higher stature and better garments stood amongst them. He had some evident authority over them—Yazok the temple priest—for when one turned to flee:

"Na-yam!" ordered the priest, and the man did not go. On and down swooped the monster bird. The priest watched it, silent and motionless, but with a tense look of acrid dislike on his face.

The bird finished its flight just back of the temple.

The aeroplane that had risen from Dehra Dun so surely and lightly had made a forced landing on the inhospitable slope of unknown Rukh, a landing so imperatively forced that almost it might be termed a crash.

CHAPTER VIII

LUCILLA CRESPIN came into sight first, but Traherne was first on the ground. Crespin climbing down rather awkwardly hesitated a moment at a difficult point, his foothold not too wide or secure, the available foothold below an uncomfortable distance to a man of his weight.

"Take care, Antony!" she cried brightly, as he was about to risk it and jump. "Let Dr. Traherne give you a hand."

"Hang it all, I'm not such a crock as all that." Crespin jumped as he spoke, jumped heavily, but landed safely enough.

Traherne understood that Lucilla's words had hurt Crespin—and he pitied him.

"Are you all right, Mrs. Crespin? Not very much shaken?"

"Not a bit!" she laughed.

"It was a nasty bump," the pilot said ruefully.

"You managed splendidly," the woman defended heartily.

"Come on, Lu," Crespin interrupted: "sit on that ledge, and I can swing you down."

She put her hands impartially in theirs, and jumped lightly down, sayings "Thanks," as impartially.

The natives watching the strange newcomers with wonder and fear, began to chatter eagerly among themselves.

The priest turned and said a word to one of the gape-mouth crowd who instantly made off at great speed towards the distant castle.

"That last ten minutes was pretty trying," Major Crespin said. "I don't mind owning that my nerves are all of a twitter." He fumbled inside his thick leather coat, and pulled out a flask. "Have a mouthful, Traherne?"

"No, thank you," Traherne said easily, helping Mrs. Crespin out of her coat.

"You won't, I know," Crespin said to his wife. "I will!" he drank off the brandy. "That's better!" He refilled the cup and drank again. "And now, where are we, Doctor?"

"I have no notion."

"Let's ask the populace," Crespin suggested cheerfully. The natives shrank back in open fear as Crespin came up to them—all but the priest; he stood his ground and salaamed slightly, but almost contemptuously.

Crespin spoke—in Hindustani—but the priest listened blankly, and then in his turn poured forth a speech of some length pointing dramatically now to the dusky incarnadined temple, now to the beetling palace.

Mrs. Crespin and Dr. Traherne made no steps to follow the Major, but stood together just where he left them.

"You were splendid all through," Traherne said in a low, tense voice.

"I had perfect faith in you," the woman answered frankly.

"If I'd had another pint of petrol I might have headed for that sort of esplanade behind the castle up there and made an easy landing. But I simply had to try for this place, and trust to luck."

"It wasn't luck, but your skill that saved us."

The sudden blood rushed over Traherne's wind-browned face. It was more than she had said to him ever before—not the simple, conventional words, but the pride in him that pulsed in them, pride in him, and something too of a claiming. She did not know that, and he knew that she did not. But he heard and understood, and his heart lashed at his ribs, and was hurt. She often had spoken to him of Antony's good qualities, never of Antony's faults. But now a barrier was down—only one of many—and she had let it fall. It usually is the woman who lets it fall.

"It wasn't luck," she repeated contemptuously. "It was your skill that saved us," she added, and the change in her voice, the quick, white flame on her face, was confession and challenge — challenge the more compelling, confession the more complete, because the woman had made them unconsciously.

"You are very good to me," Traherne said in a voice not too well under control. The woman looked at him quickly. Their eyes met, as they had not met before. His face quivered a little. And then the man's eyes fell—not Lucilla's.

CHAPTER IX

TRAHERNE and Crespin were intensely perturbed at the situation in which they found themselves, and still worse in which they had landed the woman who was dear to them both.

They were thoroughly frightened, but they took it lightly, of course: they were British. And but for the woman's being with them, they might even have found tingle and excitement not altogether unpleasant in the undeniable predicament.

2 PLANES LOST IN STORM HUNTED

ed. Kelly was thrown from the cockpit and shaken up, but not seriously injured.

Complete confidence in Doles ability was expressed by Western Air executives, who said they felt that he had landed in the storm and might have damaged a wheel.

Lauded by Passengers

He is the pilot who arrived in Albuquerque, N. M. last October with a plane load of passengers 30 hours after he had made a forced landing in a snowstorm while on an eastbound trip. The passengers were tired and hungry after their experience, but lauded his ability.

Doles and Beiber flew from Los Angeles to Kingman Sunday with passengers, but at Kingman adverse weather conditions made it inadvisable to continue eastward. They started back with the empty ship.

Whether they were forced down in the Arizona desert or reached the Sierra Nevada mountain range at the California state line was not learned.

Safe, Belief

In the belief that Doles had only made a landing and been unable to take off again, a plane carrying two mechanics was sent to Kingman to be ready to repair his ship when located. A number of pilots said they felt that Doles, playing a cautious game, had decided not to try to fight the weather.

J. A. Anderson, represting Western Air in the Nevada search for Graham went to Hiko, Nev. to question the three brothers who reported finding the revolver near Irish mountain. They had been in Caliente, but refused to discuss the matter until they learned details of a reward. Anderson was isolated at Hiko and could not be reached today.

Mudhen Shooter Given Release

MARTINEZ, Feb. 24.—Frank G. Guistino of Pittsburg, jailed last week for shooting mudhens out of season, to supply his starving children with nourishment, was back at work in Pittsburg today, following his surprise release last night.

The game violator's release was ordered by the county parole board following receipt of a letter from the committing magistrate, Justice of the Peace Wade Moore. The latter requested Guistino's release to enable him to go to work at the steel works in Pittsburg this morning after a ten day lay-off.

Burglary Suspect Facing Charge Of Violating Probation

MARTINEZ, Feb. 24.—Wilbur F. Bon, arrested in Richmond on a charge of burglary, will probably be returned to San Francisco to face charges of violating his probation, officials declared today following a hearing in the superior court.

Bon admitted to the court that he was on probation on a burglary charge in San Francisco where he had been sentenced to serve five years in the state prison.

Bon was arrested here Feb. 4 and was charged with burglarizing a restaurant owned by Chung Eng at Richmond.

who were at their home in New York when the actress died at 2:45 a. m. Sunday, were expected to arrive here by train tomorrow.

It had not been decided definitely whether the "gay, glad girl" that Hollywood knew so well would be buried here or in the east, but it was considered likely that St. George, Staten Island, where she spent her childhood days, would be chosen.

There was irony in the death of Mabel Normand. She always had been surrounded by countless friends, but in the last months of her life, when she lay stricken by tuberculosis, and in the hour up to her death she was comparatively alone. Even her husband could not be reached in time, so unexpected was the end.

With her passing, the murder of William Desmond Taylor came up for renewed discussion. Mabel Normand was the last person known to have seen him alive.

"I wish to God they could find out who did it," she often said. That was her wish even in the last weeks of her life.

But when she died the crime was as mysterious as it was at the time it was committed in 1922. Her death served only to remove another character from one of the movie colony's great tragedies.

MEAT BLAMED FOR POISONING

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—UP—Preliminary study of the poison that caused illness of more than 140 persons after a banquet here Sunday night ha sindicated it was due to tainted meat, Detective Sergeant Allen McGinn said today.

All who had been stricken had recovered or were out of danger, physicians said. They were mostly members of young people's organizations of the Salvation Army in northern California.

McGinn said he was tracing the source of chicken and veal served at the meal. Executives of the Salvation Army said all food had been purchased from reputable firms.

Nine of the victims were still in San Francisco General hospital and three were being kept under observation at Central Emergency hospital.

Trustees Have Life Time Job

Trustees in the estate of Mrs. Kate C. Haugh of Richmond who died six years ago and left a trust fund for her nieces and nephews in Ireland, have been left a life time job.

Mrs. Haugh, after leaving certain sums to relatives in America, directed that the residue of the estate, amounting to $6500, go to her Irish relatives. According to the will, the income from the estate which amounts to about $500 annually, was to be paid to them until the youngest reached the age of 35 years.

Ranging from one to 40 years of age, investigation showed there were 28 nieces and nephews, for which attorneys in Ireland have been demanding an annual accounting.

Hiram E. Jacobs, attorney for T. G. and W. H. Conn, the trustees has just filed the fifth annual accounting. It is estimated the process must continue for about 28 years more.

COOLIDGES UNDER GUARD

Mr. Coolidge to make the trip back east in coffin because he is going to kill him.

"So God sakes be careful and protect yourself and Mrs. Coolidge because he sure will do it. His brother is in peitantry (penitentiary) for bootlegging.

"God bless you and protect you. I will pray for you and remain your friend.

(Signed) "A. D."

"The vigilance over Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge has been doubled," Lieut. Hynes said. "They will be protected."

Coolidge dismissed the letter when he told Hynes:

"This is a matter for you to handle."

The Coolidges remained in their suite in the Biltmore Hotel thruout the day because of the former executive's cold, contracted last week.

They will leave tonight at midnight for the San Simeon ranch of William Randolph Hearst, at which place they will spend three of four days.

No date for their return east has been set. It is likely that they will go by way of Arizona so that Coolidge may dedicate the Coolidge dam.

Sailors Stricken By Parrot Fever

CHELSEA, Mass., Feb. 24.—UP Seven sailors, all members of the crew of the Czecho-Slavakian freighter Legie, were believed to be stricken with psittacosis—parrot fever—at the Marine hospital of the U. S. Public Health service here tonight.

Although diagnosis of their illness had not been completed, physicians at the hospitla said the symptoms of their ailment were silimar to that of the dreaded parrot disease which recently claimed several lives in this country.

County Group Meets Thursday

The Contra Costa public is invited to attend the emembership meeting of Contra Costans Associated and hear Rolland A. Vandegrift of Los Angeles discuss "The Tax Situation in California." Such was the announcement yesterday by Ralph H. Wight of Martinez, President of Contra Costans Associated. The meeting is to be held at the Martinez Veterans' Memorial hall Thursday evening at eight o'clock.

The Taxation and Bond Issue committee of the county booster organization is scheduled to report as well. There will also be a preliminary report from the publicity committee as to preparing of plans for the advertising of Contra Costa county.

The final details of the Thursday night meeting will be decided upon at a meeting of the executive committee at the office of the president Tuesday morning.

Horner Talks To Harbor Masons

Clare D. Horner, past potentate of Aahmes Shrine temple was the speaker of the evening at an educational meeting of the Harbor Masoni clodge. Emmett Hitchcock, worshipful master was in charge of the meeting.

Horner based his speech on Abraham Lincoln, telling of his life, his father's life, conditions of the times, and the political situation. His speech was well received by the audience, being delivered in a pleasing and interesting fashion.

Mrs. Clarence Craig and Mrs. W. P. Cooper rendered several vocal duets and refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Wedding Halted By Auto Thief

SAN RAFAEL, Feb. 24—(U.P.)—A thief who stole the automobile in which they were eloping from Glendale, spoiled the plans of David Tait and Martha Jones, both 17, to be married, they claimed when they were taken into custody here today. They said the automobile of the bride's father was stolen in San Jose and they walked the rest of the way here, delaying the proposed wedding.

Driver To Face Murder Charges

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24—(U.P.)—A complaint charging murder will be asked against Thomas Bell, 36, who drove through a safety zone and struck eight persons, the city prosecutor's office announced today after the death of one victim, Judson Bailey, 60. Police rescued Bell, assertedly intoxicated, Sunday night from a crowd that was hunting a rope to lynch him.

electric chair for the murder of Theora Hix, scheduled to be carried out in Columbus, O., Thursday. The court is expected to announce its decision tomorrow.

Oliver Wendell Holmes, acting chief justice since William Howard Taft left the bench because of ill-health, announced Taft's resignation in a breaking voice. The sorrow has been followed by happiness, he said, at the appointment of Hughes, who sat as a member of the court on President Taft's appointment from 1910 and 1916.

The clerk escorted Hughes to the seat occupied for the last eight years by Taft, and the new chief was greeted by his associates. He sat silent for two hours while the justices read written decisions, speaking only at the end to announce the luncheon recess.

Meanwhile Taft, seriously ill with arterio-sclerosis and a complication of ailments, was reported "about the same" at his home here. He is so weak that Hughes has not yet been able to visit him.

Man Faces 8 Year Old Murder Charge

CHEHALIS, Wash., Feb. 24—(U.P.)—Sheriff J. B. Skidmore of Webster county, W. Va., was here today to return Elisha Mullins, alias Bill Johnson, to Webster county to stand trial for the murder of Clay Lusher, eight years ago. Although Mullins said the shooting was in self-defense, Sheriff Skidmore maintained it occurred as a result of a quarrel over a woman, Ellen Roberts, who was employed by Mullins as a cook. Mullins has waived extradition.

Protect Your Furniture

A $1.25 to Rid Your Home of Moths May Save You Hundreds of Dollars.

MORTEMOTH KILLS MOTHS

The gas from Mortemoth crystals not only protects your furniture for a long time, but contact with it kills all moths, their eggs and their dangerous larvae in furniture which is already infested.

The proper method of using Mortemoth crystals is to tie them in small sacks, and to place these sacks down in the channel of the piece, as deeply as possible, behind the cushions, so that, upon expansion, the gas will spread and fill the spring units in the back and in the bottom of the piece.

When the sacks are empty, fill them again.

STREET LIGHTS ORDERED BY EL CERRITO

On the recommendation of Street Commissioner Peter Larsen, the city council of El Cerrito at its meeting Monday ordered street lights installed at San Diego street and San Pablo, Lassen street and San Pablo avenue and on the east side of San Pablo opposite Panhandle boulevard.

Request of P. E. Jackson to operate a used car yard at Central and San Pablo avenues was denied on the recommendation of Chief of Police R. R. Cheek who stated that there were enough used yards on the avenue at the present time.

Key boulevard near Cutting boulevard was ordered repaired on the complaint of Councilman Charles Zimmerman who stated that the street was in a very bad condition.

Councilman J. R. Beck notified the council that the cans in the north part of the city had not been cleand as ordered a few weeks ago so the council instructed Street Commissioner Phil A. Lee to have the matter taken care of by the street department.

Street Commissioner Phil A. Lee's recommendation that the city take out $25,000 and $50,000 liability and $5000 property damage insurance on the street roller was accepted by the council and a policy ordered from W. N. Donaldson to cost $42.20.

Report of Deputy Treasurer F. H. Wright showed the following balances on hand February 1st; street improvement fund $2,696.07, fire bond fund $6,936.88 and central fund of $25,578.44.

Request of J. G. Gaylord for a fire hydrant at Curtiss and Colusa streets was referred to Water Commissioner Peter Larsen for one week.

MARTINEZ, Feb. 24—Suit for divorce was today filed against Lorenzo Parolli of Richmond by Mrs. Florence Parolli, who charged cruelty and failure to provide. She asks $40 a month and custody of two minor children.

Motorist Fined For Speeding, Rum

Fines totaling $150 were assessed O. H. Mitts, 574 Sixth street, Richmond, yesterday morning by Police Judge J. F. Plank of El Cerrito on charges of reckless driving and illegal possession of liquor.

Judge Plank fined Mitts $100 for rackless driving and $50 for possession of liquor.

According to police reports, Mitts was arrested by officer Floyd Gilbert early Monday morning while driving in an uncertain manner on San Pablo avenue near Wall street.

Hans Olsen, 732 Eighth street, Richmond, who was riding with Mitts, was also arrested and fined $25 on a charge of drunkeness.

Barrett Avenue Property Rezoned

On the recommendation of the city planning commission, the city council last night rezoned the property of C. E. Megenity at 1414 Barrett avenue from residential to commercial.

It is the intention of Megenity to install a salesroom for outward motor boats and boating supplies.

Harold Crew, Alberts department store decorator, is recovering nicely from a recent operation for tonsils at the Letterman's hospital in San Francisco.

AUTO DEATH HELD ACCIDENT

MARTINEZ, Feb. 24.—Nasahari Nakatani, 7, son of a Vine Hill Japanese farmer, died shortly before midnight Saturday from injuries sustained when he was hit by a car driven by Mrs. Marcia Bishropic, 431 Perry street Oakland Saturday afternoon.

The boy suffered a fractured skull and a compound fracture of the left leg.

Mrs. Bishropic told authorities that the Japanese boy and another youth were playing by the roadside when he suddenly dashed in front of her car. She made a futile effort to avoid striking him, she said.

At an inquest conducted by Coroner Aubrey Wilson last night, a verdict of "unavoidable accident" was returned by the jury.

Aspersi Estate Letters Filed

MARTINEZ, Feb. 24.—Petition for letters of administration in the estate of the late Batista Aspersi of Richmond was today made by his widow, Mrs. Antognetta Aspersi of Richmond.

Real estate valued at $1000 comprises the estate to which the widow is the sole heir. She is represented by Attorney Hiram E. Jacobs.
